

University of Leeds Scholars make Courtesy Visit

Two Scholars from the University of Leeds made a courtesy visit to the Principal, Prof. Peter Ngau on Thursday, May 11, 2017. The scholars Dr. Fleur Loveridge and Dr. Mark Trigg who emanate from the School of Civil Engineering, were on a mission to establish research collaboration in infrastructural development and human settlement.

Key areas of possible collaboration that they emphasized on were the impact of climate change on infrastructure and flooding and environmental hazards.
